COLLEGE: College of Medicine

DEPARTMENT: Department of Biomedical Sciences

RANK: Clinical Professor of Pathology

EMAIL: kajones8@central.uh.edu

Graduate classes taught in the last three (3) calendar years: I joined UH-COM in May 2020.

- I participated in co-teaching in the Clinical Anatomy and Human Development (CAHD) course, beginning in August 2020.
- I will participate in co-teaching in the Scientific Foundations of Medicine (SFM) course later this fall.
- I will co-direct and teach in two other Organ Systems courses in the pre-clerkship medical curriculum (Gastrointestinal and Renal).

Prior to joining UH-COM, I taught graduate level (medical students) and post-graduate level (residents) at another institution for about 20 years.

Graduate academic programs in which you are actively involved: UH-COM Medical School curriculum (co-teach and co-direct courses, member of Curriculum Committee, Curriculum Integration Subcommittee, Student Performance and Advancement Committee, and Faculty Promotion & Tenure Committee)

I am honored to be nominated to potentially represent the UH-College of Medicine on the Graduate and Professional Studies Committee of the Faculty Senate. Having worked in academic medicine in Texas for over 20 years, I have seen the benefits and advantages of a strong shared governance model, and also the potential perils when faculty voices are not considered in decisions that impact students, faculty, the College, and the University. If elected, I would do my best to appropriately represent the opinions of our highly respected, diverse, and innovative faculty in Senate deliberations. I would support strategic growth of graduate programs within the College and University, and seek opportunities for collaboration with other Colleges and partners in the community. Thank you for this opportunity.
